Grand Jury Indicts Phillip Charles Braden

Improved Facilities For Jurors Recommended By Grand Jury

Two indictments, one of murder with malice and the second of assault with intent to murder, were returned by the Milam County grand jury against Phillip Charles Braden of Houston and formerly of Cameron.

Braden was indicted with murder in the death of Johnnie Sanders, Jr., who died from gunshot on the night of December 22. The youth was killed following an altercation in which he, Braden and his brother, Claude Sanders, were allegedly involved at the Star Lite Club. Upon leaving the club, the indicted man allegedly shot and killed Sanders.

Braden was also indicted with assault with intent to murder with malice aforethought in and upon Claude Sanders. Claude Sanders was himself hospitalized from wounds received at the time his brother was killed.

The grand jury was in session for four days during which time they examined a total of 29 witnesses and found nine true bills of indictment of the grade of felony including the two against Braden. They returned no indictments of the grade of misdemeanor.

Others indicted in the session ending last Saturday, January 5, were James Phillips, indicted for felony theft; David Lavon Cason, two indictments of forgery and passing forged instruments; Henry P. Sullivan, felony theft; Clarence E. Sullivan, felony theft; and Travis Latham, two indictments of burglary.

Members of the grand jury also passed a resolution expressing their appreciation and commendation to Sheriff Carl Black, his deputies, the constables of the different precincts of this county, and to the County Attorney of Milam County, Robert C. Nelson, for their efficient and courteous assistance to the body of jurors during their sessions.

They also commended and recognized much improvements in the jury facilities since the previous term of the Grand Jury. Their resolution went on to read, "We feel we would be derelict in our duty to the public if we did not call attention to the still inadequate and impractical conditions under which jurors have to work in this county."

"We make an earnest plea that the officers having the authority to do so immediately make some arrangement whereby the Grand Jury can investigate matters in some other quarters than those in which the sleeping accommodations are situated."

They also outlined a program of six parts which were itemized as follows.

1. The beds are so close together that no one on this jury would want to be kept overnight as the beds are situated. They should be rearranged so as to allow moving space between the beds for the occupants.

2. To accomplish one above, the existing tables, chairs and other furniture excepting the beds should be removed, burned, and new tables and chairs be placed in the smaller room at the northeast corner.

3. The interrogation room should be separate and apart from the sleeping quarters and bath facilities.

4. No human being should be asked or by necessity required to sleep on the pillows now furnished jurors in Milam County. It is recommended that at least the feathers from the pillows should be disinfected and cleaned, and new ticking be made to cover them.

5. The heating facilities should be moved from the center of the room where the beds are and placed near the wall.

6. The small room to the northeast of the sleeping quarters should be completely cleaned and remodeled to be used as an interrogation room.

Former Cameronite Critically Ill At 96

D. B. Worchester, born and raised in Milam County and a resident of Cameron until five or six years ago, is reported critically ill at his home in Chriesman. He is presently 96 years of age.

His son, E. D. Worchester of Temple, was in Cameron on business last Tuesday at which time he told of his father's illness. He said his father operated a market in Cameron for about 40 years before retiring from the business.

Mr. Worchester celebrated his 96th birthday last Sunday, January 6. His son, still a very active man, is himself 74 years of age.

St. Anthony's 4-H Club Holds Diversified Meeting January 4

St. Anthony's 4-H Club met Friday, January 4, at the Simon George Hall. Ronald Litzman, club president called the meeting to order to get the business of the new year underway.

Judy Meek, song leader led some sing songs of which everyone participated. There were several reports given by club members about their demonstrations.

Lester Byrd, club instructor, distributed booklets among the member the color combination is Snakes of Texas and The First Aid Treatment of Their Bites". These booklets are published by the Texas Game and Fish Commission. He drew special attention to the markings of a Texas coral snake. The easy way to remember the color combination is to remember the saying, "Red and yellow kill a fellow; red and black venom lack."

He explained the difference in the teeth markings of a poisonous snake and a harmless snake. A poisonous snake has two large fang punctures which are larger than the remaining teeth marks. The marks of a harmless snake are uniform in size.

Byrd also gave a few pointers on how to treat a snake bite.

CHIEF WILLIE DOLAN of the Cameron Police Department pins his "chief's badge" to the shirt of Make McDermott, co-chairman with Kay Camp of the Teenagers March of Dimes. As chief of the city's law enforcement officers for the day on Saturday, January 5, McDermott and his assistants handed out tickets for traffic violations and other misdemeanors right and left. Citizens of Cameron responded by flooding MOD coffers with coins.

Working Parties To Meet Jan. 25

Plans are now being made for voluntary working parties to assist in performing necessary work at the cemetery at North Elm on Friday, January 25.

Dinner will be served to all those assisting in this work, it was announced.

TEENAGERS TAKING AN ACTIVE ROLE in collection of dimes (and pennies, nickles, quarters, halves and folding money) arrived at the Cameron City Hall early last Saturday morning to pick up containers in which March of Dimes were placed throughout the day by local citizens. A few of those taking an active part in the day's activities are shown above as under a proclamation by Mayor Robert Weems, they ruled the city government for a day. They are from left to right Lawrence Tiller, Paul Freeman, Mary Richter (she, herself, was a victim of the dreaded polio at the age of 12,) Ann Knipp, Barbara Jo Young, Fay Angell, Turner Newton, Kay Camp (co-chairman of the teenagers), Monroe Bayer and Ferrell Angell.

Attending a family reunion in the Chriesman home of Mrs. Ben Bauman on Saturday, December 29, was Mr. Buss Love of Cameron. There were 26 in number who attended the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Gurecky and Miss Bessie Marak were in Waco Sunday visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stecker and family.

Laywell Takes Kiwanis Gavel

Ed Laywell was installed as president of the Cameron Kiwanis Club at a special dinner-meeting at the Magnolia House last Thursday night, January 3. Retiring president of the club is Bill Black.

Other officers installed during the meeting, which was attended by the wives of members and a number of guests from the College Station chapter of the Kiwanis Club, were Bob Nelson, vice president, and Dr. John Bryson, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Bryson held the same position during 1956.

Guest speaker for the evening was Rev. C. H. Morris, pastor of the Church of Christ here. A charter member of the Denver, Colorado, Kiwanis Club which was the second such club ever organized, Rev. Morris explained to members early organization of Kiwanians and outlined means of the club assisting others in need.

The committeemen also checked with State Legislators Seccrest and Cox to get their opinions of the district. Both men announced they are highly in favor of such a district and promised the group their complete backing on the floors of the Texas legislature.

Indications Point To Increased Business In Milam County, City

Dun and Bradstreet, international compilers of credit records on businesses and individual, this year are requesting annual financial statements from 419 business enterprises in Milam County.

Compared with the requests by the firm in November, 1946, ten years previously, this is an increase of 38 businesses within the

Automobile Accident Causes $300 Damage

William August Knipp, 18, and Daniel Hugo Slaughter, 74, were drivers of automobiles figuring in an accident about 5 p.m. Tuesday, January 8, at the intersection of Crockett and Gillis Streets.

There were no occupants in either car other than the drivers, neither of whom was injured. Police Chief Willie Dolan estimated approximately $300 combined damage to the two vehicles.

No charges were filed against either driver.

county. This is the most requests for financial statements of concerns within the county ever made according to Robert C. Cushman, the firm's district manager in Houston.

Milam County's section of the current issue of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book contains listings of local names comprising manufactures, wholesales and retailers. It does not include some of the service and "professional" businesses such as barber and beauty hops, real estate and stock brokers.

There will be an estimated 150 changes in listings of Milam County enterprises with new firms being added and the deleting of names of those having discontinued.

According to these records, Cameron firms in the decade had decreased from 187 to 176. This portion of the report led to a hurried survey of the local situation by staff members of The Herald.

Bank officials in the city upon checking the situation reported their records showing an increase of deposits and of customers over the last 10 years. Those in the real estate business pointed out that while there are a number of vacant business shops in downtown Cameron, this number is by far exceeded by new buildings currently housing firms of various descriptions. Such new buildings are located not only in the downtown section but even more so along Highway 36 and 77.

It being the time of the year for inventories, the survey made locally also indicates Cameron businesses are doing a much larger volume of business than they or similar businesses were doing in 1946. One operator of a downtown department store explained this increase of business did not even require as large supplies of any particular item as was the case 10 years ago. This phase is due to better and more transportation units for freight into the city.

Marak CYO Holds First Meeting

Marak C. Y. O. held its first meeting of the year on January 6, with new officers presiding.

Plans for the 1957 volleyball tournament were made, and the schedule of time and places to be played were announced. Elections were held for the Captain and Co-Captain of the local volleyball team.

The elected captain was Bernice Vansa with Bertha Horelica assisting her as co-captain.

Election of delegates to the annual C.Y.O. convention to be held in Temple on January 25 through the 27 was held. Delegates elected were Bernice Vansa, Lillie Hromcik, and Bertha Horelica. Rev. Raphael Gerscovick was also present at this meeting.

Teenagers Rule City For Day; Fines Collected Aid MOD Drive

Cameron teenagers under the chairmanship of Make McDermott and Kay Camp turned out Saturday in mass to take over the city government as a phase of their money-raising activities for the current March of Dimes.

Heading off the 1957 drive in Milam County to raise money for financing research and treatment of the dreaded infantile paralysis disease, Cameron youths in this single phase of their plans to raise money collected $189.56 in small fines and donations. They toured the city as collectors of voluntary donations and also in the capacity of fire and police officers.

Inspecting fire hazards of downtown businesses led to production of tickets to practically all business establishments. Owners and operators gladly turned over donations to the youths and several even admitted they were told of hazards which are truly capable of leading to fires but which they heretofore had not recognized as such.

Police for the day handed out hundreds of tickets for traffic violations and other misdemeanors. Max McClaren, current county chairman of the MOD drive, admits that upon stopping to give instructions to Miss Camp, she promptly presented him with a ticket for blocking traffic. By noon Saturday, every adult in downtown Cameron was toting the mark when it came to obeying city ordinances as the youngsters were not missing "a single bet."

With cooperation of Sheriff Carl Black, the fire alarm was sounded in mid-afternoon and the trucks made a run to the Country Club to extinguish a fictitious fire. Fire truck chasers followed and upon arriving at the club house found the young fire marshals had blocked off the driveway into the club grounds. A charge of one dollar was placed against each driver desiring to leave the grounds. This stunt alone brought in $21.

According to McClaren, teenagers at Rockdale plan to take over the city government there next Saturday for a similar money-raising plan to aid the March of Dimes drive.

Brother Of Late Milam Judge Dies

Cameron kin received word Tuesday morning of the death of Dennie Kemp, who was the brother of the late Milam County Judge Jeff T. Kemp and the late Lou Kemp, Texas Company official and noted Texas historian.

Mr. Kemp died in Louisiana. Funeral services were held in Greensburg, Louisiana, Wednesday, January 9, 1957.

Livestock Show Plans Drawn

Plans are now being completed for the annual Junior Livestock Show to be held on February 16 beginning at 1:00 p.m. on the Mitchell Auto Lot.

All FFA and 4-H Club boys and girls in Milam County have been notified through their County Agents and Vocational Ag teachers. All entries are closed now as of January 7.

Both dairy and livestock cattle will be judged. The Danish classification system will be used, awarding prize money on points earned as determined by the ribbon awarded the animal by a recognized judge.

As an added attraction this year, the Livestock Committee has decided to have a judging contest for both adults and students. Those who would like to try their hand at judging animals, must go to the show and judge all animals in each class. The winner will be determined by the card bearing the nearest amount of points to that of the judges' decision. Three prizes will be given in both the adult and student contests. This will also give the boys and girls a chance to practice their judging.

Some of these boys and girls will be going to the Houston Fatstock Show the following week. Awards are made in such a way that every entrant receives an award. This show does much toward training stock handling and showmanship.

John S. Batte, chairman of the Junior Livestock Show, says that this year's show will be even better than last year's.

Names of judges and other information will be announced at a later date.

The Wee Hours By Your Police Reporter

It was after midnight last Saturday night when Gene Hayes stopped by the City Hall to check on possible accidents. While there, he was complaining of the deluge of traffic and other tickets handed him during the day by the city's teenage police force, headed by Make McDermott.

Night Chief "Brandy" Brandenburg let out a horse laugh and declared the reason for his having received the tickets was instigated by Charles Matula. It all results from The Wee Hours of last week in which explanation of young Matula and Raymond Tepera getting lost while coon hunting was ran.

Jesse Kirk and several other youngsters present and listening to the conversation heeded every word. As Brandenburg completed his laugh, young Kirk hinted that since the night chief supplies subject matter of many of the column stories, such was also the reason the night officer remained home in bed all day Saturday during the time teenagers were patrolling the city.

Bill Validating Elm Creek Water District Ready For Legislature

Tentative directors of the Elm Creek Watershed District are continuing to contact Central Texas business, conservationists, state representatives and organizations to gain acceptance of the bill being proposed or adoption of the district.

Aided by landowners, ranchers, farmers and numerous others in the Milam, Bell, Falls and McLennan Counties the problem is still undergoing much needed study.

At a meeting held on January 3, those attending contacted H. N. Smith, state conservationist, to learn other items they should place upon their agenda in order to get their proposed bill passed at the next session of the legislature. Smith told the group they had made such great progress during 1956 and due to the fine manner in which their organization had been set up it is very body will move their bill ahead of 25 or 26 other proposed districts.

The group also visited the offices of Jim Boner, Temple attorney, who had written the bill probable the state governing Creek Watershed District. However, alterations of the bill was to be made but the final draft will be drawn before the legislature convenes.

The committeemen also checked with State Legislators Seccrest and Cox to get their opinions of the district. Both men announced they are highly in favor of such a district and promised the group their complete backing on the floors of the Texas legislature.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

RECIPES... HOUSEHOLD HELPS

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

You probably are including in your future dinner menus a vegetable dish that in traditional with your family, one that has been handed down from generation to generation.

We know of a family that would call a dinner on a special occasion incomplete without a big dish of rutabaga turnips to go along with the usual entree. Another family looks upon scalloped potatoes as its own traditional dish. Our family's special vegetable dish is baked squash garnished with cheese.

Whether traditional or not, vegetables can be just as festive as the other foods. Try sliced canned water chestnuts with canned or frozen peas or green lima beans. Just add, season peas or beans with salt, pepper, butter or margarine and simmer until thoroughly hot and the flavors blend.

Here's another festive dish: Sliced toasted almonds with canned or frozen French style green beans. Season with less salt than usual and use a little less butter or margarine, since almonds contain fat. Cook as usual.

Festive Dish

And another festive vegetable dish: Place frozen cauliflower in baking dish. Season with butter or margarine, add just a dash of salt and pepper, and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake at 350 degrees F. about 1 hour and 15 minutes. This recipe is good for asparagus, too, canned or frozen. Cook the canned asparagus at 350 degrees F. for half an hour, and the frozen for one hour at 350 degrees F.

With so many rich foods, it is well to include in the menu one simple green vegetable to give freshness or crispness to the

Young In Heart

THERE IS NOTHING like palladium jewelry for a woman's morale and that's one reason why Loretta Young feels as glamorous as she looks. Another reason she is so happy is that her weekly "Loretta Young Show" continues to rank as one of the most popular TV Sunday evening attractions. Loretta's lovely necklace and earring ensemble was created with diamonds and rubies set in palladium. This precious metal of the platinum family, is selected by jewelry designers as a setting for diamonds since palladium holds the gems securely and its brilliant whiteness enhances their sparkle. Many engaged girls among Loretta Young's millions of TV viewers have their precious diamonds set in this increasingly popular jewelry metal.

Mrs. Milada Matyastik Dies January 2 In Local Hospital

Final rites were held at 2 p.m. Friday, January 4, for Mrs. Milada Matyastik, 47, of Cameron.

meal. Just season with salt, pepper, butter or margarine and lemon juice.

Color And Flavor

Since good vegetables are available, there is no end to the combination of colors and flavors they afford. Follow two simple rules to preserve the color and flavors of fresh vegetables. First, prepare vegetables as short a time as possible before serving. Second, cook fresh vegetables in just half-inch boiling water (only the water that clings to the leaves for spinach). In a covered saucepan over a simmer flame. With this two-point know-how, vegetables are sure to make for hearty, nutritious, memorable meals.

For canned vegetables, drain liquid into saucepan, bring to boil. Add vegetable and heat at simmer setting. For frozen vegetables, follow directions on package. Both canned and frozen vegetables heat well in oven. Use 350 degrees F. about 30 minutes for canned vegetables and 1 hour to 1 hour and 15 minutes for frozen vegetables at 350 degrees F. Do not throw away liquid from canned vegetables. It is nutritious and may be saved for soups, sauces and gravies.

For additional free information on vegetable cookery send a postcard to the Home Economics Department, Lone Star Gas Company, Room 601 at 301 South Harwood, Dallas 1, Texas.

The U. S. Air Force's 8-jet B-52 Boeing Stratofortress weighs 353,000 pounds, is 156 feet long, has a 145-foot wingspread, a 48-foot tail four stories tall, and can fly nine miles high at 600 mph for a range of over 6,000 miles.

Cameron Postal Receipts Climb

Postal receipts at Cameron Post Office were up 18 percent during December, 1956, over the same month in 1955. Receipts in December, 1956, totaled $11,234 as compared with $9,478 for the similar 1955 period.

However, Postmaster John R. Hays said receipts for the entire fiscal year of 1956 dropped by a little more than two percent over the previous year. The monetary drop amounted to $2,000; the decrease being from $83,000 in 1955 and $81,000 in 1956.

Hays said post office business during the December just past was the largest December business in the history of the local post office.

Recent Rains Help

Recent rains in many areas of the state have been sufficient to germinate and start growth of dry planned winter pastures. Too, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, plantings can still be made but late plantings mean less grazing.

He says management of the winter pastures from now on will determine to a large degree the amount of grazing which such pastures will provide. Ask your local county agent for a copy of L-253, "Winter Temporary Pastures."

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors for the food, beautiful floral arrangements and the many kindnesses shown us during our recent bereavement.

Local Guard Unit Holds Inspection

Officers and enlisted men of Battery C, 649th Anti-aircraft Artillery Battalion at Cameron received their annual Federal inspection on Wednesday, January 9, the local National Guard unit announced early this week.

This inspection, it said, was scheduled to be conducted by a high-ranking Army officer from the Inspector General's Office, Fourth Army, Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio.

The inspecting officer was scheduled to examine the Battery's records, weapons, vehicles and Armory facilities during Wednesday afternoon. Then that night, during the weekly drill period, he was to inspect the guardsmen in ranks, and occasionally question them about their job assignments in the unit.

He was expected to make a written report on the result of his inspection at a later date. He will be accompanied on his tour of inspection by other Army and National Guard officers from 649th AAA Battalion headquarters in Temple.

Miss Nina Baldrige Buried Near Rockdale

Funeral services were held Wednesday, January 2, for Miss Nina Gay Baldrige at Lilac near Rockdale. Burial was in the Lilac Cemetery.

Miss Baldrige, a retired schoolteacher, died in a Houston hospital. She was a member of the John T. Baldrige family of Lilac and Milam County.

Survivors include three sisters, Mrs. Lola Yeary of Dallas, Mrs. Alma Black of Houston and Miss Bliss Baldrige of Lilac, and three brothers, Scott of Rockdale, Freeman of Austin and J. Q. Baldrige of Houston.

Michael Peck Born Dec. 16 In Marlin

Michael Bradley Peck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Peck, was born December 16, 1956, at the Torbett Hospital in Marlin. He weighed seven pounds and four ounces at the time of his birth.

Grandparents of the child are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peck, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Martin, all of Cameron.

Reportable Diseases

Reportable diseases in Milam County for the week ending Saturday, January 5, totaled 25 according to Dr. John B. Bryson, director of the County Health Unit.

Breakdown of these diseases includes 12 influenza, 10 strept. throat and three of whooping cough.

Between World War I and World War II, the average speed of aircraft increased 15 miles per hour per year. Through World War II, until 1947, aircraft speed increased 25 miles per hour per year. Since that time, up to the present, aircraft speed has increased 165 miles per hour per year, and there is no end in sight.

American men today seem more and more reluctant to hibernate with the passing of warm, sunny weather. They are stretching their "day in the sun" into the chill and even the frosty months.

This type of outdoor life naturally demands the right clothes—warm, comfortable, good looking garments—and the demand has been so strong that new ideas and designs to fill the bill have been assembled from all over this wide, wide world.

Ideas for style and added comfort have been culled from such diverse sources as the Bavarian Alps and Switzerland, France and England, and the Scandinavian countries, as well as Canada's Hudson Bay and our own American campuses, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

Take this array of international proportions and multiply it by the great variety of fabrics that have been made available, and you begin to get some idea of the enormous selection of outerwear from which America's men and boys will be able to pick and choose for the cold spells ahead.

Three good examples of how to get out of doors—in style.

Applications For Roughage Feeds Being Accepted Here Through January 11

Roy M. Wright, Milam County FHA supervisor announced last Saturday that applications for roughage will be accepted at the Cameron office through the close of business on Friday, January 11.

He said applications will be acted upon on a "first come, first served basis." Funds have been allotted to each county, and it is very likely these will not be sufficient to issue purchase certificates to all making application at this time.

Wright said he has been advised that his office may now accept applications for a supply of roughage feed to carry basic livestock through March 15. This advice came with announcement by Walter T. McKay, state FHA director, that the roughage program for Texas has been extended to all 238 counties previously designated.

The Milam supervisor said McKay was also advised that it is the policy of the Department of Agriculture to continue the emergency feed grain and roughage programs in the drought areas as long as there is need for these programs.

A full schedule through an all-day meeting was handled by the Board of Supervisors of the Little River-San Gabriel Soil Conservation District at their regularly scheduled December meeting according to Gilbert Kretschmar, chairman of the board.

The meeting was held in the conference room of the Bartlett Electric Cooperative Building in Bartlett on December 20th.

Among the numerous items of business were the following: A review of district accomplishments during calendar year 1956 and a projected program of planned activities for the year 1957. W. F. Stewart, field planning engineer with the State Soil Conservation Board, was present and assisted the board in completing an organized plan of action for the coming year. Adrian I. Moore, Soil Conservation Service technician stationed in Bartlett, presented information, facts and accomplishments of value to the board in making these plans and reviews.

Johnny Kuhlman of Holland met with the group and requested the sponsorship of the board in submitting an application for assistance on upstream flood prevention treatment on the Darrs Creek watershed in the northeast portion of the district. Fred Blair of Bartlett also requested similar sponsorship and assistance on the Donahue Creek Watershed which lies immediately south of Darrs.

W. C. Marshall, agricultural advisor with the Temple National Bank, was present at the meeting and gave assistance to the board and all interested parties in completing these applications for presentation to the State Soil Conservation Board.

A group study of the audit prepared on the financial status of the district was completed and a small increase of funds in the district treasury noted. These funds are utilized under the guidance of the district board for furthering the cause of conservation accomplishments within the district area.

In summary, Kretschmar states, the board is highly pleased with what has been accomplished during 1956. The district has laid plans for greater accomplishments during 1957 and these include adequate opportunity for participation on the part of every person within the district. Of utmost interest and concern to us for the coming year will be the development of a watershed program for flood prevention treatment on every stream within the district area.

Local Installations By Gas Company Indicate Continued Growth Here

An optimistic outlook for Cameron's continued growth is reflected in a year-end business report by C. M. Burke, district manager for Lone Star Gas Company.

Lone Star added 50 new customers in Cameron in 1956, bringing the total at December 31 to 1780, including 1500 residential, 270 commercial and 10 industrial customers, Burke said.

He added that the company installed 7705 feet of street mains during the year, making a total of 35 miles of pipe in the city's distribution system at year's end.

"We anticipate great additional growth," Burke said. "We will probably add another 50 new customers in 1957, and are planning to install 12,000 feet of street mains. This will be carried out to meet customer growth demands."

Burke pointed out that local additions and growth are typical of the expansion that Lone Star has experienced throughout its operating area. The company added 32,300 new customers to its distribution systems in Texas and Oklahoma in 1956 and expects an additional 32,400 in 1957.

The company's underground storage capacity was increased by some 35 billion cubic feet of gas in 1956, bringing its total capacity to 51 billion cubic feet. Company officials point out that this storage capacity, together with Lone Star's increased supplies and gas reserves, puts the company in the best position ever to assure steady and dependable natural gas service to Cameron and the other 451 cities and towns the company serves in Texas and Oklahoma.

Editorials...

A Current report from Dun and Bradstreet shows business and industrial growth in Milam County up 10 percent over ten years ago. This increase shows little of the increase as having been within Cameron.

However, a check made by the Herald staff indicates such is not the case. Not only has there been a great increase in the number of retail outlets in the city but an additional industry-Walled Lake Door Company has also been added.

Operator of one of the local department stores says his sales at present are well above those of 1946 at which time he was carrying more of each item on his shelves. This means transportation for the acquisition of fast deliveries has improved.

Dun and Bradstreet reports some of the service and professional businesses are not included. A check with bank officials within the city indicate that without such businesses, records of their accounts show added establishments here. They further pointed to the fact that current deposits are higher than in those years just after World War II.

Thus Cameron is growing despite reports from out-of-town concerns. Dun and Bradstreet has an excellent means of acquiring reports on those businesses on which credit reports are requested by insurance underwriters and manufacturers and jobbers of merchandise sold to local retailers.

Yet, we must remember that Cameron banks, business houses in operation for decades, larger residential sections and many other local trends are the true means of indicating the city's true growth.

Youths Aid Others . .

March of Dimes within Milam County was greatly assisted by efforts of Cameron teenagers last Saturday.

These youths took over operation of the city and performed an excellent job of directing traffic and collecting fines for violations. Collections of such fines plus donations collected by the youngsters were well in excess of $100.

Since fines placed on traffic violators were only 25 cents and donations in small change, this shows the energy expended by the city's youths in raising money for others less fortunate than themselves.

Cameron youths may at times commit some act of mischief on which adults may frown. Yet, should we look back, we too may well remember the times in our youth during which we may have committed a mischievous act.

It is sincerely hoped that we, one and all, can look back to a day during which we too gave up planned activities to spend in aiding others without any thought of compensation.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER FINDS HE AND THE U.S. TREASURY ARE IN ABOUT SAME FINANCIAL BOAT

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River claims he has found company in his financial problems, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

With the Suez Canal jammed with ships and Washington jammed with Congressmen as the new session got underway, I naturally was interested in getting hold of a newspaper before 1957 gets too old but I searched this place thoroughly and couldn't find one yesterday, outside of one published two weeks ago containing predictions on what Congress will do this year and anybody who relies on a newspaper columnist's predictions is pretty hard up and not very well equipped to face the future, so I went into town and hauled off and bought a copy and took it home. I was just getting into it when I read a statement by the Secretary of the Treasury saying he felt sure the national budget can be balanced this year if a little increase in income can be managed.

What this convinces me of is that the government operates its business about like I operate mine. That is, I never have seen the time when I couldn't balance my budget if I could manage to get a little more income.

People talk about tax relief, about spending less, about economizing, but me and the United States government have found out long ago the only way to make ends meet is to get a little more money. I know I could spend a little less, could cut down here, do without there, the same as you, but you and me are rascals with the same problem as Congress; the people won't let us do it. In Congress' case, the voters and the demands of families are the two things that are keeping a lot of noses to the grindstone.

Moreover, while I don't know about you, I know me and Congress approach this problem in the same way. That is, about all either of us has ever figured out to do about the need for more money is to wish for it and hope for the best.

However, I'm proud to say history is on our side. There never was an administration or an average man who couldn't use a little more money, and regardless of how much more either of us get this year than we did the year before, it won't be quite enough.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Duval's Background For Dictatorship Is One of Violence and Sudden Death

By-FREDERICK HODGSON

SAN DIEGO, TEX.—To know the history of Duval County is to understand the power of George B. Parr. To know the county's people is to know Parr himself.

Parr's power, and that of his father before him, is based on the Latin-American, by tradition an easily led "follower." Almost 90 per cent of the people in Duval are "Mexicans," so called even though their families may have lived on this land since the days of the Conquistadores. Most of them are desperately poor. Many are illiterate. Many speak no English at all.

Perhaps half the population of this little county town, 4,397 at the last official census, live in miserable "jocas," unpainted huts built with scrap lumber.

The town, officially a city, is typically Mexican, with a mission-style church and a central plaza with a band stand. The line separating Duval from Jim Wells County runs through the town, and through the center of the San Diego Cafe, meeting place of the anti-Parr forces. Across the street, Highway 44, and catty-corner to the West is the Court-house and the Windmill Cafe, headquarters of the Parr brigade.

The "Mexican" in Duval is small, dark-skinned, Catholic by religion. George Parr is an "Anglo" and by all rules of deep South Central Texas he and his followers should be as different as day is from night.

The average "Anglo" in Duval is a big man, taller by inches than the general run of Americans. By religion he is Protestant. He speaks little or no Spanish. He is apt to wear fancy, high-heeled Western boots and a Western hat.

Even though his skin may be burned by the sun to the shade of old copper he thinks of himself as "white"—in contrast to the Mexican-American who is patronized as a peon, as part Indian. The "Anglo" speaks of "good Mexicans" and "bad Mexicans," but always of "Mexicans." He doesn't think of the Latins as Americans at all.

More than a trace of the frontierman still remains in the Duval "Anglo." There are men still living who can tell truthfully of pulling trigger on yelling Apaches.

It is more than a bit startling to the outsider to get the "feel" of the small towns in Duval, Jim Wells, Brooks, Webb and other counties of the area. A man from north of the Nueces River is a "Yankee" and an alien. The feeling, the psychology, the atmosphere, is that of the frontier, of violence and of sudden death.

It would give a man from Austin, from Dallas or from Chicago quite a jolt to sit in a man's office as I did and ask a casual question about another man and have your host slam a loaded .45 on the polished desk so hard that it left a dent.

"One of these days the blankety blank so and so is going to walk in here and I'm going to kill him." Or to hear a peace officer say very seriously that if he were such and such a man—naming him—that he wouldn't fool around waiting for the law, he'd just up and kill the fellow who had gunned a relative.

Or to hear another man tell of visiting a friend in jail for murder, a friend who was acquitted quickly when the case went to a jury. I asked for the circumstances.

"Oh, he was throwing out of a bar when said 'Go ahead, said 'Go ahead, if that's what you want.' Bang!"

It's not so many years ago that these same men were killing Mexican raiders from across the Rio Grande on sight—and asking questions afterward.

George B. Parr's father, old Senator Archie Parr, and the son after him, put the anti-Mexican, patronizing psychology of the "Anglo" into reverse. They then parlayed the gratitude and adoration of the Latins into one of the most cynical, most ruthless dictatorships in American political history.

Old Archie, then a red-necked, cocky little $25 a month cow puncher, arrived in San Diego at the turn of the century and took the side of the "Mexicans" against the "Anglos."

The "Anglos" in Duval were then split into two factions, led by the Robinsons and the Hoffmans. Archie shrewdly moved in between the two groups, voted his Mexicans as a solid unit and before a dozen years had passed he owned the county as a private barony. He knew every political trick in the book and added some of his own. The title "Duke of Duval" was no empty honor.

Old Archie was a small man, pot-bellied in his later years, who spoke Spanish like a native and thought like a Mexican. He apparently sincerely loved his followers, loved them as a man might love a faithful dog. He punished them when they were naughty, fed them when they were hungry, led them like a flock of sheep, robbed them blind, tended their hurts—and used them so adroitly that no man dared oppose him. He made alliances with political leaders in adjoining counties. His power was vast.

Old Archie sat in the State Senate for twenty years, ran a rip-roaring wide open county back home in Duval where not a dog barked without his permission. He controlled the courts, the police, the schools, the rackets, everything in the county. He manipulated elections with the dexterity of a gambler with a deck of cards.

There were sporadic revolts against his rule, of course, but these were put down ruthlessly. On primary day in 1912, for example, three men were shot to death in the street in front of the Courthouse. Two years later a determined attempt was made by Parr foes to clean up Duval by the simple expedient of abolishing the county altogether. It didn't work. In 1915 the Texas Supreme Court ordered an audit of the county's books and the Courthouse burned down after the auditors had worked only one day, destroying the records.

In building his power, and in consolidating it, Old Archie had one powerful force operating in his favor—the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Ironically, that much-amended Constitution of 1878 was framed deliberately to give counties the greatest possible measure of home rule. Behind the solid rampart of that document the Duke of Duval ruled with the absolute authority of a Medici.

Thus it was the Constitution, as much as Parr himself, that posed the serious obstacle to Attorney General John Ben Shepherd in his march on the Duchy of Duval. He had to stay carefully within its obsolete framework while fighting against forces that cared not one snap of the fingers for all the law in Texas.

Old Archie's son, the present Duke of Duval, grew up in this atmosphere of corrupt politics. He knew of the liquor-laden pack trains that came into the county during the lush days of prohibition. He knew of the lecherous things that went on, and he learned well. His playmates were the Latin children of San Diego. Spanish, not English, was his mother tongue.

Among his playmates was Manuel "Meme" Marroquin, now Parr's most bitter enemy, editor of a militant little bi-lingual newspaper "New Duval." Other articles in this series will tell more of Marroquin, a man who has suffered much, including physical beatings, at the hands of the Boss and his henchmen.

Land Board Advises

Milam County Vets

When veterans in Milam County receive blank application forms from the Veterans' Land Board, they should immediately fill them out and return them to the board.

Land Commissioner Earl Rudder made this announcement Tuesday and added that his statement was prompted by numerous inquiries from veterans who thought there was no need for quick action on the application forms.

These veterans, Commissioner Rudder explained, believed that no funds were available in the land program for lending purposes. To the contrary, the commissioner said, application forms are not sent out unless money is available.

Under the present system of processing applications, the land board assigns each veteran who requests application forms a number.

As funds become available, application forms are mailed to veterans in their numerical order on the waiting list.

When the land board receives the completed application from the veteran, which must arrive within 30 days, formal processing of the request begins.

Commissioner Rudder also pointed out that veterans will receive forms quicker when mailed if they notify the land board of each change of address.

Top soil moisture is neither critical nor sufficient while sub-soil moisture is below normal according to a report made Friday, January 4, by County Agent J. D. Moore.

Oats and clover have not made the growth they should have, he said, and further pointed out that no damage to current crops has been reported.

According to the Cameron FFA office, 91 grain applications for emergency grain feed amounting to 1,130,000 pounds for one week has been received, Mabry said.

Team Contact Points

State Agricultural Conservation and Stabilization offices in Arizona, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Utah have been designated as contact points for teams of livestock buyers from Mexico.

The first teams from Mexico will start buying in Texas. This program was made possible through an Export-Import Bank loan to Mexico for buying U.S. cattle.

Mrs. Mary Jane Mabry; a sister, Mrs. Della Crawford; two brothers, C. B. Mabry, all of Houston, and T. R. Mabry of Galena Park, and two grandchildren.

Women Guide Goods

The American housewife, says Kermit Schlamb, extension poultry marketing specialist, can be thanked for the improved appearance of poultry offered on today's market.

Store sales showed that women prefer a ready-dressed, meaty bird with yellow skin and light pin feathers that eliminate the tedious job that formerly was a part of getting a chicken or turkey ready for cooking.

Breeders went to work to help producers meet these requirements and today's poultry is the result.

Hunting Accidents

There isn't a deer, duck, turkey, dove or quail in Texas worth the price of a permanent injury or death to a hunter, says E. H. Cooper, extension wildlife conservation specialist.

And as he sees it, there is little excuse for hunting accidents if the basic rules of safety are observed. Don't take chances and see that fellow hunters respect and obey the same safety rules you follow, says Cooper.

Fertilizers Better

Fertilizers are a lot better today than in years past, but more improved fertilizer materials can be expected in the future, reports M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist.

He suggests that farmers be alert to the new developments because they can mean more opportunities for increased production and efficiency and greater farm profits.

Lice, Mites Trouble

Lice and mange mites are more troublesome on hogs during the cold months of the year. Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, says these parasites should be controlled as soon as they are found.

He says local county agents can furnish information on the recommended control measures.

"Mary Had a Little Lamb..."

"Mary had a little lamb
Its fleece was white as snow
And everywhere that Mary went
The crowds were sure to go."

In fact, Mary had a couple of lambs. And when she took them for a walk on State Street in Chicago, things began to happen. The way people stared, you'd think they'd never seen a lamb before—or maybe they had never seen a gal in a bathing suit transporting a pair of lambs down Chicago's most famous street. Anyway, there was quite a crowd.

Traffic stopped, causing jams that resulted in enough horn blowing to be heard out in the suburbs. Photographers appeared out of nowhere. And crowds—they lined the street as if for a St. Patrick's Day parade.

And all Mary was doing—was leading her beribboned lambs up the street while she bore a streamer across her chest reading, "Miss Woolene"—because that's who she was.

There may be some coincidence between this strange event and the fact that Woolene is a new method of washing woolens—dip the garments into water to which Woolene has been added. They come out fresh and clean, with nary the slightest shrinkage or loss of nap.

What will these press agents think of next?

Thyroprotein Tests

Recent tests by U.S.D.A. and Montana scientists indicate that use of thyroprotein in mixed feeds to stimulate milk production in dairy cows has little practical value for most herds.

Texas Develops Oats

Bronco, a new attractive, light red-grain oat variety developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the USDA, has equaled or outyielded present Texas commercial oat varieties in adapted areas of the state.

It has exhibited more winter hardiness than such varieties as Mustang or New Nortex.

The manually operated Norden bomb sight of World War II fame weighed 50 pounds. The automatic all-weather bombing and navigation system on today's bombers weighs forty times as much!

Top Yields Needed

High acre yields are more important than ever. Grain and forage supplies on most Texas farms and ranches are at a very low level because of the prolonged drought.

Top yields are needed from next year's crops and pastures not only to replenish these supplies but also to whip the cost-price squeeze, says M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist.

Cut Brooding Costs

Cost of brooding chicks in infrared-lamp brooders can be cut almost in half by fitting the brooders with side curtains.

W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer, says recently completed tests in Indiana proved the value of fitting infrared brooders with curtains when used by commercial producers.

Farm-Ranch Safety

This reminder from the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council: Safety is the business of every citizen who desires to live and do well in 1957.

Resolutions for improving our accident record are not enough. Action speaks louder than words so act, think and be a salesman for safety on the farms and ranches of Texas.

Drive With Care Now

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council reminds all highway users that driving conditions for the next few months generally are conducive to traffic accidents. "Use care and do a lot of thinking when driving during adverse weather periods."

Conference At A & M

The ever-increasing importance of fertilizer to the agricultural industry of Texas were stressed from many standpoints during the annual Texas Fertilizer Conference held at A & M's Memorial Student Center, January 8-9, 1957.

Oil Executive Known Locally Succumbs At Michigan Home

Russell M. Brown, known throughout the Middle East for activities in the oil industry, died Christmas morning in an ambulance on his way to the Mason General Hospital in Mason, Michigan.

Recipient of the coveted Order of the British Empire from Queen Elizabeth II of England and a medal from the French government for his part in rescue operations when two French intercontinental passenger planes went down in the Persian Gulf, Brown is the son-in-law of Mrs. R. L. Dyckus of Cameron. Other Cameron relatives surviving the distinguished oil man are two brothers-in-law, Fred and Afton Dyckus, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Claude Bailey.

Brown has returned to the family homestead in Vevay, Michigan, five weeks before his death, mortally stricken with a brain tumor. Twice within two years, he had undergone brain surgery and for months received X-ray treatments in New York.

He was sent to the island of Bahrain in the Persian Gulf to help build a refinery for the Bahrain Petroleum Co., Ltd., a British subsidiary of CalTex, owned by Standard Oil of California and The Texas Company.

Brown started work for the Standard Oil of California when the company built a refinery in El Paso in 1928. He decided to learn the oil business and had worked his way up to become assistant superintendent at the El Paso refinery when strikes were first made in the Arab lands. At that time he was sent to Bahrain, where he and his family made their home for 16½ years.

THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER

Most glamorous car in a generation

It's triggered by a new TorqueFlite transmission

Want to pass a car or a truck on the highway? You don't have to kick the throttle to the floor. Just touch lightly . . . and ZOOM!
Want to get out in front when the light goes green? Relax! Count five, then toe the throttle. You'll still be out there alone.

Mighty in power . . . but mighty easy to control, too! That's the performance story of the new 1957 Chrysler. A superb new airplane-type V-8 engine that develops up to 325 horsepower teams with a new TorqueFlite transmission, pushbutton operated. This powerful combination gives you a magnificent new hi-velocity getaway from standing starts, great reserve power for passing when you need it and velvety smoothness. Yes, this 1957 Chrysler is every bit the streak of a car it looks to be. Come in and test it for yourself . . . compare it with any of the other new cars for power, performance, comfort and looks. More people than ever before are switching to Chrysler, and that puts us in excellent trading position to give you the best of deals on your old car.

Illustrated is the Chrysler New Yorker 4-Door Hardtop. The dual headlights, now permissible in all states, are optional equipment.

The "Why" of Fall Fertilization

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

Fertilizer put on in the fall speeds planting in the spring.

Fall fertilization gives better spread of work—even out the amount of labor needed.

Machinery pulls easier and does less damage when the soil is in its best physical condition.

Larger machines can be used with a saving in time and labor.

It's easier to get the exact fertilizer ratio and the grade you want.

Fall top-dressing holds legume in grass-legume mixture.

It's better to risk the loss of a little nitrogen than to risk not getting fertilizer at all, or an insufficient quantity.

Any slight loss of nitrogen usually costs less than an extra trip over the field.

Guides in fall use of fertilizers:

1. You can put down in the fall all the phosphate and potash you plan to broadcast and plow down. These will not be lost.

2. The ammonium form of nitrogen is held by soil particles and can be leached out only when soil bacteria change it to the nitrate form. This change is very slow after soil temperature has dropped or when soil reaction is acid.

3. Rely on a soil-test to determine your fertilizer needs.

Suggestions are by the Agricultural Service Division of the Union Bag-Camp Paper Corporation, makers of multiwall bags for fertilizer.

Now Is Season That Farmers Should Construct Waterways

At the beginning of each new year Milam County farmers naturally make some sort of plans for their farm for the coming year.

A point in each plan should be to terrace the cropland that will erode when rainfall returns to normal. When thinking of constructing terraces, the first thing that comes to mind is providing a place to safely carry off any excess water that comes out of the terraces.

A well-established terrace outlet or waterway in Milam County is just as important to a terrace system as a good foundation is to any building. The next three months, January, February and March, is the ideal time to prepare that waterway. The most commonly used grass or waterways in this area is Bermuda grass - other grasses used are KR Bluestem and buffalo grass.

Width of Waterways
When terraces cannot be emptied onto permanent pastures, establishing grassed waterways is a necessity prior to the construction of terraces. The width of a waterway depends on the number of acres that it will drain. Natural drains are used for waterways when it is feasible and is possible. If the drain is washed out but not too badly eroded, it would be wise to plow or doze the gully inward to get a gradual slope toward the center before establishing a cover of grass.

If the drain is deep and badly eroded, it has been found that a good practice is to sod a strip of grass on each side of the drain to be used for runoff water from terraces. By using this method, the excess water from the terraces will spread out and slow down before going into the drain.

If the steep banks tend to cave in, grass sod will be carried into the ditch and aid in establishing grass inside the gully. Where there is no natural drain, or when using a natural drain is not feasible, the grass is established to the required width on the natural ground. Either before or at the time of terracing, a berm or ridge is put up on each side of the strip to hold the runoff water in the waterway.

Fencing Waterways
If at all possible and desirable, the waterway can be fenced in with the pasture land so that the grass can be grazed when some excess growth made. Where KR Bluestem is used, the grass can either be grazed for short period of time, or can be cut for hay. By using this plan, the waterways serve their primary purpose and also furnish some forage for livestock. If the waterways are not grazed, excess growth and weeds should be controlled by mowing.

Work on waterways should be done during the first three months of the year. A number of farm owners and operators in Milam County are now working on waterways to be used for terrace outlet protection at a later date.

During years of below normal rainfall, waterways started in the spring may not grow sufficient cover to empty terraces on to in the fall of the same year. A good practice to follow is to start work on the protective grass strips one or more years in advance of the date that terrace construction is planned for the farm.

Farm Population Off

The farm population of the United States has been decreasing about 600 thousand a year since 1949.

Farmers who have remained on the land have achieved record breaking harvests on about the same acreage and with 30 percent less labor.

Winterize Machines

Winter is around the corner and W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer, reminds that a hard freeze can play havoc with auxiliary motors, tractor engines and sprayers unless they have been properly winterized.

The first military airplane was based at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas.
